Todd Blake introduced Chris Thomas.

Guest Speaker: Chris Thomas, Bureau of Elections

Chris Thomas thanked the CEO and Legislative committees for their hard work. He also recognized Dana Muscott. He mentioned that other states are not in the positive position which Michigan enjoys. He monitors the MAMC list serv emails and often will respond as needed.

He noted with this being a Presidential year the registration groups are out there. The Secretary is attempting to meet with those groups and get things going correctly from the beginning. Advancement Project out of Washington is one of the groups. They want to train election workers and do registrations. They are asking questions and he advised inquiry should be directed to the bureau of elections. Other groups like Moveon.org and Project Vote are out there. Problems continue with college student registrations. The Bureau is working on a process.

Chris noted that there will be several ballot proposals on the November ballot. He is aware of at least four. The Dillion recall was found to be insufficient. Mr. Thomas indicated digitized signatures are not clean enough to disqualify a signature, use master cards in all local offices.

Counties are imputing information into "Election Wizard". It will be able to show candidates in jurisdictions across the state, locate polling places across the state, and will include driving directions to those polling places.

E-Poll Book is breaking ground with the ability to have a paper parallel / e-Poll book, capture voter history, have a line chaser to verify people are in the correct place, and manage closing of the polling location.

Merit Email system will be out ASAP. It will be a new communication tool for the bureau and clerks. New you can use and Election news will be removed from the web site as it is being used to generate FOIA requests.

The Federal election commission is still impacting us. We can expect huge mandates next year/ prescriptive mandates as to the number of devices at each poll, how we train inspectors, and post election audits in each community.

M-100 program issues, result from the ability of the Election assistance Commission to get a certification program off the ground.

AfterMark is an alternate certification program the state is looking at.
